

My Personality & Serving Style

Circle where you fall on each scale. There are no right or wrong answers—this is about honest self-awareness. Knowing how God wired you helps you find environments where you'll thrive.

Part 1 — Who I Am

For each pair, circle the point that best describes you most of the time. The middle dot = genuinely in the middle.

	Extreme			Moderate			Extreme
Extroverted	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	Introverted
Cooperative	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	Competitive
Self-expressive	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	Reserved

Part 2 — How I Serve

For each pair, circle where you naturally fall when it comes to serving:

	Extreme			Moderate			Extreme
Routine	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	Variety
Task-Oriented	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	People-Oriented
Serving with a team	<input type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>		<input type="radio"/>	Serving alone

REFLECTION

Looking at your answers across both sections, what kind of ministry environment would best fit how God made you?
